

Mystical course in the thoughts of Shams Tabrizi

Abdulrahim Anakeh

Professor of Persian language and literature, Dehaghan Branch, Islamic Azad University, Dehaghan, Iran (in charge of correspondence).

Ali Asghar Mirbagheri Fard

Professor of Persian language and literature, Dehaghan Branch, Islamic Azad University, Dehaghan, Iran.

Neda Partovi

Ph. D. student of Persian language and literature, Dehaghan Branch, Islamic Azad University, Dehaghan, Iran

The purpose of the present research is to investigate the course and mystical behavior in the thought of Shams Tabrizi. Shams Tabrizi is one of the great thinkers of the history and culture of this region, whose thoughts contained an approach for reach the sublime essence. Therefore, introducing his works and having a new look at Shams's intellectual behavior is a necessity due to its deep entanglement with the people's society, so as to provide rich cultural texts to everyone in neat and refined forms.

The present research method is descriptive-analytical. In sum, it can be said that Shams's main teaching is based on the fact that a mystic, in the last stage of his journey (goal) towards the truth, would reach in a state of oneness with God and becomes mortal in Him. At this stage, the mystic remains like a reed, although the sound comes out of him, but it is not his voice, but it is the musician's breath that blows in him. Therefore, the words and actions of mystics are the words and actions of God; because he has been freed from his attributes and has been described as the attributes of truth.

Key words: Shams Tabrizi, mysticism, knowledge, annihilation